Rebellion of Convicts Is Crushed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A rebellion by Ohio Penitentiary inmates was crushed Wednesday by police and National Guardsmen, who blasted through prison walls to rescue nine penitentiary guards held hostage for nearly 30 hours.

Five of the inmates who had threatened to burn the guards to death were killed in the attack and 10 others were injured. The hostages escaped injury.

State Corrections chief Maury C. Koblenz said the inmates "overplayed their hand and lost." The inmates had threatened to kill the hostages if certain demands weren't met or if a rescue by force was attempted.

"They had won two big items but lost everything when they ignored our ultimatum," Koblenz said.

That ultimatum, delivered at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, gave the inmates 15 minutes to surrender and release the guards.

The fifteen minutes passed, the hostages were not freed and two dynamite blasts were set off seconds apart. One shattered the outside wall of cells where the prisoners were, the other ripped the roof off the cell block.

Columbus policemen, state highway patrolmen and National Guardsmen streamed through the hole in the wall and down ropes from the roof. Staccato bursts of automatic rifle fire and the roar of shotguns was heard seconds later.

The nine hostages were freed a few minutes later. The rebellion by about 300 of the 2,500 prison inmates was over.

Warden Marion Koloski said five inmates were shot. Another was injured critically when the wall fell on him. One inmate was found with his throat slashed, and authorities believe the critical wound was inflicted by other inmates.

The dead men were taken to the Franklin County morgue, where the coroner was to rule on the cause of death.

Koloski was named warden just six weeks ago. He said he had agreed to several of the prisoners' demands, including amnesty if they released the hostages and returned 54 prisoners accused in a June 24 riot back into the general inmate population to await grand jury action. Prisoners caused about $1 million damage in the June riot.

"By forcing us to take them by force, they lost both agreements," Koblenz said. Koloski said the prisoners had become "fanatical" in their demands, and "We had to go in and bring them out."

Prison officials could not determine how the inmates obtained the half gallon of gasoline and 40 ounces of lighter fluid they said they would use to burn their hostages.

er broadcasts dropped his name. He was reported arrested by Soviet troops Wednesday, although he has come out against some of Dubcek's policies in the past.

Dubcek himself was still in Soviet custody, along with other leading members of his liberal regime.

The radio said a general strike started in the South Bohemian district to protest the occupation.

The radio also called on the army to protect President Ludvik Svoboda and not to take orders from anyone except from the legal government.

Czechoslovak secret police, who have kept in the background since Dubcek took over in January, were arresting prominent writers and journalists.

Witnesses reported hundreds of political prisoners were arriving at Pankrac Prison.

Meanwhile an American Embassy motor convoy taking U.S. citizens out of the country cleared a checkpoint outside Prague and was on its way to the West German border crossing point at Rozvadov.

Embassy officials said a Czechoslovak motorcycle policeman was escorting the convoy of about 20 embassy and private cars.

Dozens of British, Dutch and West German cars joined the American convoy.

Among the Americans was actress Shirley Temple Black, who left the tourist-flooded Alcron Hotel clutching a bouquet of red roses given her by a weeping chamber maid.

Running Mate for Humphrey Surveyed

By JACK BELL
 AP Political Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Backers of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, confident they have the Democratic presidential nomination in hand, surveyed today the possibilities for a running mate.

Outstanding among these was Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey, who has been wending his way through the labyrinth of delegate challenges and contests initiated by Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., with what is regarded by most Democratic pros as a remarkably cool approach.

The handsome, dark-haired and youthful appearing governor of New Jersey—becoming a star performer on television in these hectic pre-convention days and Bulgarians—free captive liberal leaders and go home, leaving the nation to pursue its freer brand of communism.

"There is no way back from freedom and democracy for Czechoslovakia," Svoboda said in an address over the clandestine radio station.

"The situation must be solved rapidly and the troops must leave," the 72-year-old president said, adding that he hoped a solution could be reached today.

Even as he spoke, a quarter-hour firefight against the occupation troops broke out in Prague. Hundreds of casualties already had been reported in scattered cases of resistance.

The occupation forces imposed a midnight-5 a.m. curfew and announced they would shoot without questions at anyone who appeared on the streets.

The Parliament adopted its defiant stance at an emergency meeting Wednesday. Occupation troops entered the Parliament building but the assembly continued in session.

A broadcast by Prague Radio, operating from a secret location, said occupation forces seized Czechoslovak Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek and three other liberal leaders and sped them off to an unknown destination.

In Moscow, Pravda denounced Dubcek as the leader of a "treacherous betrayal" of Communist ideals. The Soviet Communist party organ said he led a minority faction in the Czechoslovak Communist party that supported counter-revolution. It was the first Soviet public personal attack on Dubcek since the Russians began denouncing Czechoslovak liberalism.

The troops that made a lightning thrust into Czechoslovakia Tuesday night to wipe out such liberal reforms as freedom of the press still had not set up a new government today.

in sweltering Chicago—is cast as the most logical choice if McCarthy refuses to play second fiddle to his former close associate in Minnesota's strident politics.

There remained no doubt in the Humphrey camp that McCarthy would help the vice president in the general election more than any second man he could pick. But McCarthy remained a political enigma, who might even head off into a fourth party foray if he disagrees with the outcome of next week's party nominating convention.

Humphrey's confidence in the presidential balloting obviously was shaken by a Gallup poll which indicated that GOP nominee Richard M. Nixon held a 45-29 percentage lead over the vice president in popularity at this point.

Humphrey's people contended in Washington, where the vice president remained, that this represented only public reaction to Nixon's nomination at the Miami Beach, Fla., Republican Convention and would change quickly when the Democratic nominee was selected.

There was no doubt that Humphrey would be glad to accept Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., for second place on the ticket if the senator would reconsider his reiterated statement that he would not be a candidate for any office this year.

Kennedy returned to the political scene Wednesday with a speech at Worcester, Mass., in which he called for an unconditional cessation of the bombing of North Vietnam.

But he stopped short of advocating any advance commitment for Communist participation in a new Saigon government, a point McCarthy has urged and Humphrey has opposed.

Despite the claim of former Ambassador John Kenneth Galbraith, a McCarthy strategist, that Kennedy was substantially in accord with McCarthy's views, most Democratic politicians seemed to think that he substantiated—at least in part—Humphrey's claims that the vice president's views were parallel to those of slain Robert Kennedy.

This and other convention maneuverings seemed to leave Humphrey a wide choice of running mates.

He could, for example, take Sargent Shriver, brother-in-law of the Kennedys and current ambassador to France, Shriver, a super-salesman and an attractive operator, has the liability of widespread resentment against the operations of the anti-poverty program which he headed after a salutary term as chief of the peace corps.

There was talk about Mayor Joseph L. Alioto of San Francisco, son of an immigrant Italian fisherman, who has been given several publicity breaks by the Vice President. But as Alioto told a visiting newsmen, "who ever heard of me?"

More Interstate Miles Proposed for Arkansas

A huge moonshine liquor still was seized in Hempstead County yesterday and three persons were arrested. The raid was 80 miles from Little Rock to Dumas (this overlaps the Little Rock-Pine Bluff route) and 33 miles from Texarkana to the Louisiana state line; on Interstate 55, 65 miles from Gilmore to Walnut Ridge, and on Interstate 40, 75 miles from North Little Rock to Newport and 65 miles from Van Buren to Rogers.

Goodman said these six routes were included in the 1,200 mile survey conducted by Wilbur Smith and Associates to determine the feasibility of toll roads in Arkansas.

The firm had determined no routes to be feasible, but specified that the six routes as being those most nearly justifying toll roads.

made yesterday morning by Deputy Sheriff Herbert Griffin and ABC Officer E. B. Booth. The twin still operation was found some 15 miles south of Hope below Spring Hill.

Arrested were Wilton Estes, 54, and his son, Jerry Estes, 26, both of Hempstead and Billy Powell, 30, of Texarkana. They were scheduled to be arraigned before a U.S. Commissioner in Texarkana today.

The two officers also seized 77 gallons of moonshine which had been "run" off just before the raid, some 2,690 gallons of mash in 67 barrels and two stills both with a capacity of 350 gallons and a 1960 Volkswagen.

Deputy Griffin said this by far was the biggest moonshine operation he had ever witnessed. He said the men planned to run off 250 gallons yesterday morning but had only distilled 77 gallons when officers arrived.

Hopeful for Decision in Hawkins Case

MURFREESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Circuit Court Judge Bobby Steel of Nashville said Wednesday night that he hoped to render a decision next week on a motion dealing with the amount of funds Conway County Sheriff Marlin Hawkins had to pay to the county treasury.

Steel, at a hearing here Wednesday, took the motion under advisement. He said at first that he would deliver a decision next week, but added that he was so busy that he wasn't sure when he would.

Hawkins was ordered by Steel to pay $10,082 to the county following a long trial of a taxpayers suit that originally alleged Hawkins had misappropriated more than $200,000 in county funds.

The motion Steel took under advisement was filed by Hawkins' attorney, Jack Lessenberry of Little Rock.

The motion said that Steel should have allowed Hawkins' additional credit of $2,188.94 under the system of proof Steel decreed would be used in the trial of the suit at Morrilton.

The motion said Steel "failed to include the credits...by inadvertence rather than purposefully excluding these credits."

Lessenberry argued Wednesday on the stipulation that if Hawkins had testified in the Morrilton trial he would have testified that cash refunds in the amount of $2,188.94 had been paid.

Lessenberry said these were refunds where no judgment was rendered and were not listed in the general ledger. Lessenberry said that according to Steel's decree, Hawkins should be credited with this sum of money.

Richard Arnold of Texarkana, attorney for the plaintiffs, argued Wednesday that the motion was a violation of a stipulation that the defendant's attorneys made at the time of the trial "where they agreed that certain items appear in the general ledger."

"They ought not be permitted to avoid a stipulation after the court already had entered a final judgment," Arnold said.

Labor unions appeared in America at about the time of the Revolutionary War.

By TOMMY YATES
Associated Press Writer
What is round, 11 feet in diameter, 178 feet long and cooked in an oven at 1,200 degrees Fahrenheit?
The Evening Times at West Memphis answered that by saying it sounds like a Texas-size hot dog. Actually, though, it's one of the largest chemical tanks in the nation.
The big tanks are being built by Flint Steel Corp., at West Memphis for Warren Petroleum Co. at Tulsa, Okla., which will ship them to a propane distribution site in Greenville, Miss.
The tanks, which take four to five weeks to build, weigh 240,000 pounds and will hold 120,000 gallons of liquid propane.
Flint Manager John Irwin said his firm built five of the tanks last year and is building 10 now. He said they are the largest his plant has ever constructed.
"There is one firm that has built a slightly larger tank, but it is not normal practice," Irwin said.
Flint has been turning out the tanks at the rate of one a week, although crews work on each one for a month.
The big tanks sell for about $40,000, and that's too much for a "hot dog."

HELEN HELP US!
by Helen Bottel
YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!
This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.
Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.
A NEW GENERATION STOP-GAP GAME
Dear Helen: I have a set of parents whom I consider tops because they have survived — yes, survived! — raising us six kids who range in ages from 13 to 19. They've done it by playing the "Game of Civilized Discipline" which contains so much pure logic it would drive Mr. Spock into suspended animation.
Here, in long, is the main objective of the game: "How to let your kids know who's boss without putting them down, putting them on, tuning them out, or turning them off." Here are directions for playing The Game: PLAYERS: Group 1: At least one parent, preferably two, who knows where it's at in the world, country and community (youth-wise) and in the warped minds of his own particular teens — and most of all, knows where HE is at. Must have latent leadership qualities, sense of compromise, logic, and inexhaustible qualities of love, patience, trust, honesty and knowledge of how to feel one's way about without blowing one's cool too far out; also willingness to admit mistakes; and a fair amount of "guts".
Group 2: One or more adolescents who are willing to "shut up their big yaps and listen," to be honest with themselves and others, to recognize the better qualities of Group 1 members. Must have some sense of compromise and logic; also a recognizable amount of love, patience, trust, honesty, etc. (see "Group 1").
Note: All these qualities are not required in players since they are impossible to have all at once, but rather they are goals for which to strive. If both teams DO have all these sockity little traits — good for them already! They've won! And I'd like to say unto them, "Who do you think you're kidding? In accordance with Mom's word, the odds against your very existence are precisely 9,283,947,685,097 and 5-49ths to one!"
RULES:
1. All players must at all times, as often as they are physically, mentally, emotionally and psychologically able, try their utmost for the attainment of qualities listed under PLAYERS.
2. No players may indulge in any of the following "verboten":
A. For Group 1: "I bet my kids are rottener, less obedient, less respectful, less trustworthy than yours;" or "Do ya know what that stinkin' kid of mine pulled — so wait'll ya hear the — cackle, cackle — ingenious way I punished him!"
B. For Group 2: "My parents are squarer than your parents;" or "Wait'll ya hear about the fight my parents had last night — you'll die laughing!"
3. The procedures used on the playing field will be kept in the strictest confidence on all sides: A set-up called "What goes out our house is our business."

4. All players will strive for the ultimate good of all; no fair playing player against player for personal benefits.
Now that I have all the chilly mechanics of the game down, here are some actual case histories of how it's played at our house:
1. Female sibling, age 16, waltzes in one hour past curfew. No emergencies, no car trouble — just "forgot the time." Solution: On next date, curfew is quietly jacked up an hour. She gets in on time. Curfew is put back in rightful position.
2. Male sibling's grades begin floundering for no reason. Solution: Friendly chat between Group 1 and him, Group 2's other members and him, teachers and Group 1, teachers and him; continual offers to help with homework. Result: Hemispheres the honor roll by one point, but who cares, everybody's happy.
3. Thirteen-year-old sibling (that's me) singlehandedly launches argument between 14-year-old brother and self. One acid remark leads to another until female starts swinging (although male is one-half inch shorter and cannot hit girls). A fist in the solar plexus causes him to fold up with the wind knocked out of him. Male member of Group 1 arrives. Later, in private, he informs female sibling calmly, unangrily, but in no uncertain terms, that if she pulls a stunt like that again he will put her right over his knee and give her "one helluva hard paddling." She steps back in line as the practice has been used in the past.
By the way, threats of punishment are never held over the offender's head. A simple "get hold of yourself!" works well.
4. When a member of Group 2 blows his cool and tells off any member of Group 1, Group 1 suggests to offender that he go and think about that for a while, then decide whether he really meant it or not. Group 1 adds liberal bucketfuls of logic, with a minimum of "lecturing." It may take from one-half minute to two weeks, but offender usually decides it was his fault. BUT, if Group 1 decides they were at fault, they are frank to admit it.
NOTE: In none of the above does sarcasm enter the sphere! We really have a ball in our family, Helen, as you can read between the lines. — MARNIE, AGE 13
Dear Marnie: Thanks for the best letter I've had in ages! One "rule" you didn't mention, but I can see your family lives by it: "Use liberal applications of humor in the right places." — H.

P.S. I hope you choose writing as your career, Marnie. You have a real talent. Keep sharpening it, and someday I'll see your name in bigger print than I can give you! — H.

Many Up All Night to Greet Pope

By BENNET M. BOLTON
Associated Press Writer
BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Many of Bogota's two million residents stayed up all night to greet Pope Paul VI coming here to honor Latin America and plead for its impoverished millions.
The pontiff's visit to attend the 39th Eucharistic Congress was marred by his concern over the Soviet bloc invasion of Czechoslovakia.
The Pope said as he took off from Rome that he left with "sharp bitterness and great anxiety" over events in the East European nation. He added that he would give up his Latin American journey if it would serve "to avoid the disastrous consequences which, alas, one can with reason foresee" in Czechoslovakia.
In going to Bogota Pope Paul hoped to evoke what he called an intense movement of charity through the Eucharist "that invites the well-off, the developed peoples and economic and political authorities to resolve the too grave situations of fixed privileges on one side and intense misery on the other."
In the last hours before his departure, the Pope was kept informed of developments in Czechoslovakia, which, he told a general audience Wednesday, "is a country we love and appreciate."
Seemingly to tie together his hopes for both Czechoslovakia and Latin America, the Pope added that he hoped "conflicts of violence and blood" could be avoided and that "peace can be assured."

The Vatican daily L'Osservatore Romano said the Pope will pray for Czechoslovakia at the Eucharistic Congress.
Besides closing the congress, the Pope will open the second conference of Latin American bishops, meet with President Carlos Lleras Restrepo, talk with Colombian campesinos (peasants), and ordain a number of young Latin Americans to the priesthood.
The Pope's three-day schedule here was carefully arranged by Vatican prelates, Colombian church leaders and the country's governing officials to space out a variety of activity with many rest periods in the hope of avoiding overexertion in the city's rarified atmosphere.

The former president and board chairman of American Airlines did not elaborate except to say he did not have any future plans.
Smith also told newsmen that he expected the nation's economy to "undergo some leveling out" in the next 12 months.

Nat'l Loop Games Like a Freeway

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer

The whiff turned into the wham and the basepaths looked like freeways. In the National League Wednesday it was the day of the hitter in this year of the pitcher.

Instead of swinging and missing as so often has been the case this year, the batters seemed to be hitting every ball thrown their way.

The five winning teams batted out 93 hits and scored 64 runs in six games. Even the losing clubs managed 50 hits.

The Chicago Cubs and San Francisco Giants started the barrage in the afternoon. The Cubs whipped Atlanta 5-4 and 13-5 and the Giants trounced the New York Mets 13-3.

Pittsburgh climaxed the assault at night with a 19-1 wallowing of Cincinnati. In between, St. Louis topped Philadelphia 8-3 and Houston ripped Los Angeles 6-1.

In the American League, Detroit edged the Chicago White Sox 3-2 in 10 innings, the New York Yankees downed Minnesota 2-1, Cleveland whipped Boston 8-2 and Baltimore nipped California 4-3 in 15 innings.

Oakland and Washington were not scheduled.

Pittsburgh's 19 runs were high for the majors this season. So were the Pirates' 23 hits.

Matty Alou and Gene Alley both collected four hits and Manny Mota, Roberto Clemente and Bill Mazeroski three apiece for the Pirates.

Don Clendenon accounted for five Pittsburgh runs with a three-run homer and a double. Alley drove in three and Alou, Jose Pagan, Mota, Mazeroski and Clemente two each. Clemente hit solo homers his first two at-bats.

Billy Williams drove in two runs with a pair of singles in the Cubs' first game victory and then sent home seven more in the nightcap with a two-run homer, a single, sacrifice fly and a double.

However, Ernie Banks was the big blaster for the Cubs in the opener. The 37-year-old veteran hit a bases-empty homer, his 24th, in the first inning, and, then with the Cubs trailing 4-2, climaxed a three-run seventh with a two-run blast.

In the second game, the Cubs, who had trailed 5-0, went ahead to stay, 7-5, on Williams' two-run single in the sixth.

Willie Mays highlighted a six-run San Francisco fifth inning with a two-run homer, his 16th of the season and 580th of his career, and Juan Marichal coasted to his 23rd victory of the season.

While the Giants were batting in the sixth, their dugout and that of the Mets and the tarpaulin were searched after New York police received two calls that a bomb had been planted. Nothing was found and play continued after a delay of about five minutes.

The crowd of 32,023 was not disturbed during the bomb search.

Phil Gagliano and Tim McCarver both singled in two runs

Cats Ready for Rough Practices

By RALPH ROUNTON

Star Sports Writer

After two disappointing workouts yesterday, the Hope B. beats today began final preparations before the first full-scale scrimmage, which will probably come tomorrow.

In Coach Ronnie Higgins' words, the practices yesterday were "the worst so far we've had. However, after showing up well every day before, maybe the odds had to balance out a bit."

Activity of Pro Football Picking Up

By MIKE BRYSON

Associated Press Sports Writer

Thirty-one is a pretty young age to start a comeback. But Art Powell, hoping a game knee that cut short a brilliant American Football League career will hold up, was trying just that today with the Minnesota Vikings.

Powell, a wide receiver signed by the National Football League team Wednesday as a free agent, caught enough passes in eight seasons with the New York Jets, Oakland Raiders and Buffalo Bills to rank second among all-time AFL receivers.

But he was curtailed by a knee injury last season and the Bills finally turned him loose. The 6-foot-2, 212-pounder snared 478 passes for 8,015 yards during his AFL career and his total of 81 touchdowns receptions is a league record. He also ranks fourth among all-time AFL scoring leaders with 486 points.

The Vikings also traded a draft choice to Baltimore Wednesday for another wide receiver, Rich O'Hara, the Colts' No. 3 draft pick.

In Florida, things were almost back to normal at the Miami Dolphins' camp, where a slight siege of the flu struck several players earlier in the week.

Coach George Wilson said the entire squad should be at full strength for an exhibition with Boston—one of four preseason games on tap Friday night.

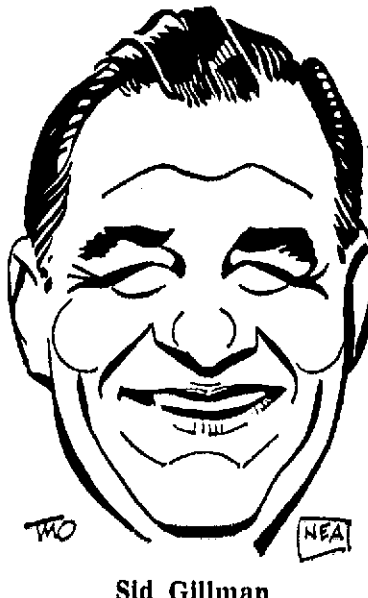

Other activity that evening has San Francisco, NFL, at Denver, AFL; Baltimore, NFL, at Detroit, NFL, and Buffalo, AFL, vs. Houston, AFL, at Tulsa.

Pro Charts

BY MURRAY OLDERMAN

AFL West: -San Diego Chargers

PROSPECTUS—Surprising buoyancy in Sid Gillman's mood, considering final-month flop of Chargers last season (last all four). "We're young," says Sid, "and we're coming and we'll be right in there if we can keep everybody healthy." That means, primarily, Lance Alworth, super-receiver. Gillman's up to old tricks of discarding veterans for young, eager bodies—particularly on defensive unit. But his own enthusiasm never flags. Prediction—Second in West.

Sid Gillman

OFFENSE

PASSING—Old slingshot John Hadl comes off a fine season in which he threw for 24 TDs. Snickers about his arm have practically vanished, and the seventh-year pro is a fine, instinctive leader. Chargers also like looks of Kay Stephenson as his back-up man. Rating—B+.

RECEIVING—None better, of course, than Alworth, only man ever to gain more than 1,000 yards catching five years in row. And Gary Garrison, other wide threat, could be most underrated receiver in league. Top team with Willie Frazier (10 TDs) and Jackie MacKinnon at tight end for a non-pareil corps. Rating—A.

RUNNING—The early form of Brad Hubbard, a soph fullback, has Gillman raving on the positive side. Whole bunch of guys trying to be his running mate—'67 surprise package Dickie Post, Gene Foster, old reliable Paul Lowe. Every little bit helps. Rating—B.

LINE—Major change finds Terry Owens taking over at tackle for Ernie Wright, off to Cincy in expansion. Ernie was a Charger original, along with holdover Ron Mix. Ron and big Walt Sweeney at guard are the reliables of a front wall which is just about the middle of the league in quality. No major newcomers in sight. Rating—B.

DEFENSE

LINE—Youth swing particularly evident here since they dropped Tom Day, a '67 regular. If Steve DeLoan can ever put together a full season physically, he'll be one end, with strongboy Houston Ridge the other. Scott Appleton, Ron Billingsley work the inside, but you'll be seeing plenty eventually of top draftee Russ Washington, a 280-pound giant in the Bubba Smith mold. Rating—B.

LINEBACKING—Would seem to be in trouble, with the regular outside men, Frank Buncom (to Cincy) and John Baker (retired) missing. But Chargers felt Buncom was just so-so last couple of years, think young Jeff Stoggs is better than either, moved Rick Redman to outside for company and reinstated Chuck Allen as middle man. If Chargers are vulnerable, it's here. Rating—B.

SECONDARY—Charger kaleidoscope now features Dick Farley, a 16th-round draftee from Boston U., as a regular free safety. Hard-bitting Kenay Graham should reclaim strong safety job. And Speedy Duncan is a clutch at one corner, but look for young James Hill (Texas A&I), first-round draft choice, to come strong. Rating—B.

KICKING—Revelation of camp has been Tom Dempsey, one-footed, one-eyed sensation, as long-distance place-kicker. Rick Redman still handles the punting in mediocre style. Rating—B.

Golf Dispute Forced Into Background

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Defending champion Dan Sikes, Jack Nicklaus, Julius Boros, top money-winner Billy Casper, U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino and other top professional golfers concentrated on golf instead of gab today in the opening round of the $100,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic.

The bitter, vocal dispute between the golf pros and the Professional Golfers' Association over who should run the rich tour temporarily was shunted into the background as a field of 156 started the four-day, 72-hole competition over the par 36-38-72 Whitmarsh Valley Country Club course.

While Sikes, Nicklaus, Boros, Casper, Trevino and company were the favorites, many eyes were turned on young Bob Murphy, the Brooklyn native who came within a stroke of tying last week's Westchester Classic.

He led the first three rounds only to lose when Boros dropped a 15-foot pressure putt on the final green.

A rookie on the tour, the 24-year-old Murphy indicated a liking for the 6-708-yard Whitmarsh course with a four-under par 68 in the pro-am tournament Wednesday.

The 1965 U.S. Amateur champion and 1966 NCAA king, Murphy had five birdies and only one bogey on a course which places a premium on keeping the ball in play.

Sikes, winner of two tournaments this year and with a bankroll already totaling $98,562, is shooting for his second straight $100,000-plus tour.

His last-round charge at Whitmarsh to overtake George Archer a year ago made him a member of hundred-grand club in 1967. He won with rounds of 71-68-69-68-276.

All the 1968 tour champions with the exception of Arnold Palmer are in the starting field, which will be cut to the top 60 and ties after 36 holes.

Arkansas scored with the first run on an error in the fourth inning and added four more in the fifth, including three unearned runs.

Saints Boldly Talking About Division Title

By BEN THOMAS

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A large number of New Orleans Saints players are boldly talking about a divisional championship in the National Football League this winter—sheer audacity, perhaps even lunacy, for a second-year expansion team.

"I'm glad they feel that way," says Tom Fears, head coach of the Saints, who astonished the gridiron goldmining ranks a year ago.

"I have to be more realistic than optimistic though," adds Fears.

The Saints were switched to the NFL's Century Division this year, joining the Houston Oilers, Cleveland Browns and Pittsburgh.

"We're in this to win the division. That's our aim. We would like to very much. So we'll be preparing with that thought in mind," Fears says. "But I'm not saying we're going to win our division."

A year together and the acquisition of four key players spell improvement for New Orleans.

The quarter: Dave Parks, a split end who ranks with the best in the NFL; tight end Monty Stickles, a savage blocker; and pass defenders Roff Fichtner and Elbert Kimbrough.

The Saints won three games last fall, equalling the mark for any first-year team. At the same time the Saints averaged 77,000-plus per home game, fourth best in NFL history.

Bill Kilmer will quarterback the Saints—holding the key to much of the team's 1968 successes, or failures.

"We're all aware of the second-year lull, one which Atlanta experienced last season," admits Kilmer. "But one of our shortcomings, a strong offensive line, can't help but improve. And our defense is good."

Randy Schultz and Don McCall re developing into proficient ballcarriers. Rookie fullback Tony Baker, a free agent, has promise of future greatness. So even if Jimmy Taylor doesn't come through the Saints expect to be able to gain more yardage on the ground.

Second-year man Danny Abramowicz, 721 yards on 50 catches with six touchdowns a year ago, has been moved from split end to flanker. With Parks, Stickles and Abramowicz—backed up by 9.4 John Gilliam—the Saints are in good shape for receivers.

The offensive interior line is still the weak spot, but appears somewhat better. Tackle Jerry Sturm is performing well and guard Del Williams, a second-year man, is coming fast.

The defense is built about safeties, Fichtner and Kimbrough, cornerback Whittsell, linebackers Bill Cody and Steve Stonebreaker and defensive end Doug Atkins.

Downing Hurls Yanks Over Twins

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

Al Downing hopes Minnesota's Mayo Clinic can do as much for his sleeping habits as Minnesota's Twins have done for his pitching groove.

The little New York left-hander, plagued by chronic arm trouble since spring training, stymied Minnesota hitters for 8 1-3 innings Wednesday night and earned only his second victory of the season as the Yankees edged the Twins 2-1.

Today Downing will re-enter the Mayo Clinic, where his pitching arm passed doctors' tests two days ago, for the examination of another problem—his mysterious inclination toward instant daytime slumber.

Downing has trouble sleeping at night but can doze off at the drop of a hat in mid-day. The Mayo specialists have diagnosed his condition as narcolepsy, a controllable ailment remotely akin to sleeping sickness. They suspect there may be some relation between his sleeping pattern and arm miseries.

"They are going to give me sleeping pills before I go to bed at night and pills to keep me awake during the day," said the 27-year-old fastballer, who won 14 games for the Yankees last year. "They'll keep me from a day to see how I react. I hope they find the answer."

While Downing bolstered Yankee hopes for a first division finish, Detroit's American League leaders moved a step closer to their first pennant since 1945 by nipping Chicago 3-2 on Jim Price's pinch hit homer in the 10th inning.

Second-place Baltimore nipped California 4-3 in 15 innings and remained seven games off the pace and Cleveland trimmed Boston 8-2 for Horacio Pina's first major league victory in the only other games scheduled.

Pittsburgh blasted Cincinnati 19-1, San Francisco riddled the New York Mets 13-3, St. Louis whipped Philadelphia 8-3, Houston downed Los Angeles 6-1 and the Chicago Cubs swept a doubleheader from Atlanta 5-4 and 13-5 in National League play.

Downing, who spent one month on the disabled list and another in the minors trying to regain his pitching form, held the Twins hitless until the sixth and took a two-hit shutout into the ninth, when Bob Allison's 15th homer brought Lindy McDaniel out of the bullpen to nail down the victory.

Price, a reserve catcher, broke a 2-2 tie at Detroit with his second homer of the year, a one-out shot off Wilbur Wood in the 10th. Mickey Stanley's eighth-inning homer had knotted it for the Tigers.

"I used to catch Wood at Columbus in 1966," said Price. "We were the best of friend, I've pinch hit and tied up the game four or five times this year, but this was the greatest."

Boog Powell broke up the Orioles-Angels marathon with a run-scoring single in the 15th after Mark Belanger walked, stole second and took third on catcher Ed Kirkpatrick's wild throw. Frank Robinson and Don Buford homered for Baltimore, staking Dave McNally to a 3-0

Plan to Block Warren School Plan Snagged

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—The attempt to prevent desegregation of schools at Warren ran into opposition in U.S. District Court here Wednesday.

The federal government filed suit to block the attempt and asked for a declaratory judgment that a Bradley County Chancery Court order is null and void in the face of an order from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The suit asks that an injunction be issued to prevent Chancery Court from interfering with the desegregation process and the agreement reached between the department and Warren school officials.

The Chancery Court order upheld a lawsuit filed by white parents in the district, who contended that desegregation was contradictory to Arkansas law. The Warren School Board announced July 31 that it would

Only 4 U.S. Players Still in Running

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—This is supposed to be the United States' year in the national tennis championships but some body had better hurry up and tell the Americans before time runs out.

The 88th annual amateur tournament entered its seventh day at Longwood today and officials were frankly afraid to think what might happen next because of the number of startling upsets so far.

There are only four Americans among the nine survivors in the men's singles. In doubles, the United States has only three teams left heading into the quarter-finals.

Army Lt. Arthur Ashe, who arrived five days late because of play in the Davis Cup inter-zone matches with Spain, remained America's best bet to win the singles title, which has gone to Australia 10 times and to Mexico and Spain once each since Tony Trabert's victory in 1955.

However, Ashe was one match behind as he met Venezuela's Humphrey Hose in the fourth round. Clark Graebner, the No. 2 domestic seed behind Ashe, was the only other seeded U.S. player still alive.

Three seeded teams, including the No. 1 tandem of Bob Lutz and Stan Smith of the University of Southern California, bolstered U.S. hopes for winning the doubles title captured by Aussies the last three years.

Graebner and Charlie Pasarell, the top U.S. Davis Cup doubles team seeded just behind Lutz and Smith in the nationals, were ousted in the round of 16 Wednesday. Pasarell was eliminated from the singles 24 hours earlier.

Elio Alvarez, 21, and Tito Vasquez, 19, Argentine Davis Cuppers from Buenos Aires who are students at UCLA, shocked Graebner and Pasarell, needing less than an hour for a 6-4, 6-4 victory. Pasarell was broken in the eighth game of the first set and Graebner in the fourth game of the second set.

Lutz, who will be 21 next Thursday, pulled a major upset in ousting Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., the nation's third-

3 Convicts Caught, 3 Still Free

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP)—Three Tucker Prison Farm inmates have been captured but three were still at large today following one of the prison's largest breakouts Wednesday.

Authorities said three of the six who escaped were discovered Wednesday lying in a soybean field about three miles southeast of the farm.

Captured were Gary Adams, 24, of Russellville; Thomas Leslie Brown, 21, of Gladstone, Ore.; and Donald Wayne Trucks, 19, of Blytheville.

Authorities said the convicts escaped on foot, making it the largest escape since eight inmates escaped together last January.

Two other inmates who fled the prison earlier remained free, bringing to five the number of prisoners at large.

Among those still free from Wednesday's escape is an armed tursty, Jerry Wayne Pemberton, 18, of Leachville, who was standing guard on a work detail unloading a truck about a quarter-mile southeast of the administration building.

Prison officials said Pemberton, serving a five-year sentence from Mississippi County for burglary and grand larceny, took his shotgun when he fled. Other prisoners unloading the truck did not join in the escape, authorities said. They said the man in charge of the detail notified prison officials of the breakout after running to the administration building.

Adams, who escaped last May 14 and was free for 28 days before being captured, entered the prison Feb. 29 of this year to serve a four-year sentence from Pope County for forgery.

Trucks was serving five years from Mississippi County for burglary and grand larceny. Brown was serving four years from Craighead County for burglary and grand larceny.

Two others still free from Wednesday's escape are Eddie Little, 18, of Corning, serving one to five years from Caly County for larceny, grand larceny and burglary; and Gary Lively, 20, of near Clinton, serving five years from Faulkner County for possession of stolen property and grand larceny.

ranked player who was seeded fourth here.

"I'm getting tired of being regarded as just a good doubles player," Lutz said after his 6-3, 6-2, 6-2 victory.

Lutz had a tough assignment today as he met South Africa's Bob Hewitt, the top-seeded foreigner, in a quarter-final showdown.

America's seeded players in women's singles were on the sidelines after being wiped out in the third round. Margaret Smith Court of Australia, Virginia Wade of England and Maria Bueno of Brazil—seeded first, second and third respectively in the foreign rank—were among the handful of survivors.

G&F Ouster Hearing Set September 3

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The ouster hearing for state Game and Fish Commissioner Raymond Farris of Biscoe was set for Sept. 3 Wednesday by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller.

The hearing for Farris, who is charged with nine counts of misconduct in office, was set for next Monday, but the delay was made by Rockefeller apparently to comply with regulations laid out by Chancellor Kay L. Matthews of Little Rock Monday.

The new date was set by executive order after Rockefeller issued executive proclamations naming Heartsill Ragon of Fort Smith and Courtney Crouch of Springdale to serve as his hearing panel. The governor named H. W. McMillan of Arkadelphia to serve as evidence officer.

Matthews declined to rule on a motion Monday made by Farris' attorney, Sam Robinson of Little Rock, which sought to delay the hearing originally set for Monday.

Robinson contended Farris, undergoing treatment for tuberculosis, was too ill to attend.

Matthews declined to issue a ruling, saying it would be premature because he found no evidence that Rockefeller had set a hearing date. Matthews also said he found nothing in the record to show that Crouch and Ragon represented the governor.

Rockefeller said that the three attorneys would represent his office in the hearings, but said this is the first time it has been placed on legal documents.

Two other Game and Fish commissioners, Ernest Hogue of Welner and Newt Bailey of Rogers, also face ouster hearings, but no date has been set for them.

Communists in Romania in Conference

VIENNA (AP)—The Romanian Communist party's central committee was called into special session today to discuss "the situation created by the fact of the penetration by foreign armies on the territory of the Socialist Republic of Czechoslovakia," a communique of the Romanian news agency Agerpres said.

The government of Romania has also been called in for special session. The communique contained no other details.

Cancer Victim
Put to Work
PEARL HARBOR (AP)—The Navy has promoted Edwin M. Rosenberg, who had stomach cancer three times, to rear admiral.

Rosenberg, 49, a plans officer with the Pacific Fleet at Pearl Harbor, was first stricken with cancer in the stomach and intestines in 1946 and was retired the following year by a Navy board.

In 1948, Rosenberg wrote to the Navy: "I'm well and wouldn't you like to employ me and get full value for your money instead of paying me and not getting anything."

It took a private bill in Congress to get him rehired. Four years later, while commanding the destroyer escort Blackwood, Rosenberg came down with cancer again. An operation and X-ray treatment followed, but he stayed in the Navy.

Several years later he was hospitalized again for cancer but returned to duty after three months.

Years from Mississippi County for burglary and grand larceny. Brown was serving four years from Craighead County for burglary and grand larceny.

Two others still free from Wednesday's escape are Eddie Little, 18, of Corning, serving one to five years from Caly County for larceny, grand larceny and burglary; and Gary Lively, 20, of near Clinton, serving five years from Faulkner County for possession of stolen property and grand larceny.

Winning Soothes Boros

NEW YORK—(NEA)—On his way to winning the Westchester Golf Classic, Julius Boros made one mistake. He picked up his own golf bag the Monday of that week, while playing an exhibition, and felt a twinge in his back.

"I should have known," he grinned later, "it was too much of a load for an old caddy."

So Jay, as his associates call him, left the carrying at Westchester to a young caddy, the driving to himself and nonchalantly sauntered through 72 holes to a $50,000 pay day. His back ached all the way.

At the age of 48, most guys would have gone to bed with a hot water bag. Julius walked gingerly up hill and down dale at his own casual pace, preceded slightly by his own ample stomach, pausing only to strike at the ball without any waste of time or motion.

Sixteen competitive years in a cauldron of tension have not affected his gait. Burly Julius has come as close to achieving nirvana as any athlete of our times.

At the same age, the yips had already taken hold of Ben Hogan and Sam Snead and muffled their championship limbers. Boros, a little bulkier than he was when he started out in 1950, his broad Hungarian face a little more weathered, maintains the same attitude of carefully arranged calmness that has always been his distinctive golf personality.

"I probably don't show my anxieties," he conceded. "If I showed nervousness, I might make the game of golf more difficult. There were a couple of times my last round at Westchester. I got floating around out there like everybody else."

But not so anybody could notice. Thousands of people scurried along the ropes for better vantage points, whooping it up as he waddled past them. Yet Boros might have been playing a friendly weekend match, for all the expression that showed. Three of his kids walked the full 18 holes with him as though it were a family outing.

It had to be hell on Dan Sikes, in the same threesome and only one stroke off the big money. Every time he lashed into the ball, Dan had those six bright little eager eyes shining on him, hoping he'd shank it or bury it in sand because he was cutting into the bread daddy put on the table.

Actually, to a man in Boros' class, the money has become almost academic, which could also account for his imperturbability. When his pocket wrinkled the check for 50 grand, Julius reacted laconically: "This'll help me meet my quarterly income tax estimate on Sept. 15."

In official money alone, he has earned $134,357.61 this year. To his previous pair of U.S. Open titles, he added the coveted PGA at San Antonio. In 74 rounds of championship golf, he has shot 20 rounds under 70, a phenomenal feat for any age.

No wonder he's not sensitive about his paunch or the fact that he could be father to the competition he meets on the course. There was this little tableau on the 12th hole of the final round at Westchester, when Julius had just dropped a 12-foot putt for an eagle which gave him the lead in the tournament for the first time, over Bob Murphy, who is 25 and even fatter.

Murphy, playing in the group behind Boros, came up on the green just as Julius pounded his drive off the 13th tee and was walking across a bridge to the fairway.

"Hey, Julie," Murphy yelled across to him, "you're making me work."

Boros let a smile flick across his face.

To him, golf isn't work. At least, not on the surface.

FOR ONLY A FLEETING moment does expression seem to flit across the poker face of Julius Boros as the 48-year-old wonder of the links moves imperturbably, and serenely, on to still another championship on the pro tour.

Lawmaker Lashes G&F Commission

HELENA, Ark. (AP)—State Rep. Jim Linder of Helena said here Wednesday that the state Game and Fish Commission "catered to the commercial hunters and the rich man" when it set dates for the duck season Monday.

The commission set the season from Dec. 6 through Dec. 25, which Linder said is not late enough.

"In this area, we get little overflow water until about Dec. 15 and as a result we get few ducks until then," he said. "I realize the interest at Stuttgart and Welner where they have commercial shooting areas, and I feel sure the action of the commission was influenced by commissioners Lloyd McCollum of Stuttgart and Ernest Hogue of Welner."

Linder said in a telegram to the commission he regreted to

Learn that the commission "failed to consider the students and little man when you set the duck season."

"They (the commission) collect thousands of dollars from this area," Linder said. "We're on a one-way street as far as the Game and Fish Commission is concerned, but if I go back to the legislature, I intend to get off that street."

Linder said a group of local sportsmen had asked the commission when it met recently at Helena to set the season as late as possible.

U.S. CAUGHT

when an Associated Press bulletin was read to the Democratic party Platform Committee while he was testifying on Vietnam policies.

And it was about four hours after the invasion that U.S. radio monitors picked up a Czech broadcast telling of the action.

According to reliable reports, the Soviet and satellite forces near the border were thought too small to indicate any intention to attack. This possibly diminished the concern, and thus the alertness, of U.S. intelligence analysts.

The failure to pickup early news of the troop movements could be explained by the Soviets having maintained radio silence, by their acting under the cover of darkness and by their apparent extensive use of aircraft to bring in troops and armor.

that state, it is the government of that state which requested aid from its allies.

At no time did he identify the persons who sent the alleged invitation and Ball retorted "the Soviet armed forces were not invited into Czechoslovakia by anybody—they are invited guests."

In the session's most dramatic moment, Czechoslovak delegate Jan Muzik read the council three documents received by radio from Prague in which his country's top leaders and all government organs said they knew nothing in advance of the Soviet move, appealed for the foreign troops to get out and urged the people to keep calm.

He spoke in slow, measured tones and refrained so far as possible from open contention with Milk.

McCarthy

victory in November, they should turn away from the front-runners.

McCarthy's forces underscored the similarity with full-page newspaper advertisements which began:

"On Aug. 7, 1968, a good man was sandbagged in Miami. Nelson Rockefeller lost the Republican nomination to Dick Nixon and Co."

"On Aug. 26th in Chicago, Hubert Humphrey intends to make Miami's power politics look like the Amateur Hour. He fully intends, at the Democratic convention, to obliterate Gene McCarthy."

McCarthy himself has said that he can overtake Humphrey only if the delegates become convinced he is the only candidate who can win in November.

His camp acknowledges that delegates generally would be more comfortable with Humphrey than with the man who cracked the facade of Democratic unity with his primary election challenges to President Johnson.

So the McCarthy emphasis in the convention buildup has been on an argument that if the politicians want Humphrey, the voters would rally to a McCarthy ticket.

Just as Rockefeller argued that Nixon could not win in November, McCarthy spokesmen say that Humphrey is not electable.

As the Republican governor stressed public opinion polls to counter Nixon delegate strength, the McCarthy organization contends the polls prove their man's strength.

Often, even the words are the same. "Erosion" is one of them. McCarthy's convention manager, Stephen A. Mitchell, contends that is what is happening to Humphrey's delegate lead. It echoes the Rockefeller claims at Miami Beach.

The chief difference between the two strategies is unfolding in pre-convention hearings on issues and delegate seating. The McCarthy organization is supporting an array of delegate challenges unprecedented in party history.

In that, Humphrey's organization perceives the outline of what its men charge will be a propaganda effort to challenge the fairness of the way nominating delegates were chosen.

In addition, McCarthy and his men intend to wage a major platform battle before the convention and the television cameras, seeking to enhance their nominating strength during a contest over Vietnam war policy.

The Rockefeller forces in Miami Beach chose to avoid such a fight, saving all their ammunition for the ultimate showdown on the nomination itself.

159 Americans Killed in Past Week

SAIGON (AP) — American battle deaths last week numbered 159 killed, the second-lowest figure this year, U.S. headquarters announced today.

The weekly casualty report reflected the lull in the war which was then in progress. The lull ended with heavy fighting last Sunday and the next casualty report is certain to be higher.

For the week ending Aug. 17, headquarters listed 1,393 enemy killed by allied forces.

American losses were 159 killed, 609 wounded and hospitalized and 575 wounded and treated in the field.

This brought the war's total U.S. death toll to 26,733 as opposed to 379,564 enemy killed.

The death toll was the lowest since mid-July when 157 Americans were killed at the beginning of the period marking the fall in combat activity. That was the lowest week this year and among the lowest in almost two years.

The figures listed 1,193 U.S. servicemen as missing or captured, a drop of 15 during the week due to missing Americans being reclassified from missing to dead.

The U.S. Command also gave an increased figure for the enemy dead in the previous weekly report which ended Aug. 10. The previous figure was 1,642 enemy killed but the command said re-evaluation fixed enemy losses at 2,102 for the week.

The weekly report totaled 88,525 Americans wounded and hospitalized since the war began with another 79,627 wounded and treated in the field.

"TIRED DOUGHBOY" is typified by Woody Hawkins of Kenosha, Wis., who has donned a World War I uniform and marched in parades for the last 17 years. Hawkins, a World War II veteran, said the "Tired Doughboy" character was originated by a Kenosha World War I veteran, and he took it over in 1951. He wears size 22 shoes over his regular shoes and carries a fresh loaf of French bread on his back. When he's not parading, Hawkins keeps in shape by carrying the mail.

ROCKETS AGAIN

one of the three Vietnamese assailants wounded. The wounded assailant was later captured. The two other men escaped.

The intensified pace of the war included shellings and ground attacks against at least six allied bases blocking invasion routes into Saigon and a fifth straight day of heavy fighting for control of a road 40 miles northwest of Saigon. The road is a vital supply route for American forces astride a key Viet Cong infiltration corridor leading from Cambodia.

A senior U.S. officer said the stepped up fighting across the country—with more than 1,400 enemy troops reported killed since last Sunday—could be the start of the long-awaited third Viet Cong offensive. But he qualified it by adding that "it's too early to make an assessment."

The officer conceded that it is "always possible" the latest attacks, mainly those on allied bases, may have been a diversionary move to distract allied forces while enemy troops maneuvered into position for a subsequent ground attack on Saigon.

"They've done this in the past," he noted.

Gen. Creighton W. Abrams' headquarters termed the renewed shelling of Saigon "indiscriminate harassing rocket attacks."

"No military installations were hit," a communique from Abrams' headquarters said.

Abrams, riding in a military jeep, toured some of the areas in Saigon that were hit by the 20-round barrage of 100-pound Russian-made rockets.

Viet Cong gunners also fired rockets on a U.S. Navy ammunition ship and three merchant ships, including the British tanker Calter Newcastle, in the Long Tau channel to Saigon. Headquarters said two of the ships received minor damage.

U.S. headquarters said the rockets that hit Saigon were fired from positions southeast of the capital.

"Counter-artillery was fired within three minutes on suspected enemy positions with unknown results," headquarters said.

UN COUNCIL

pressing Western determination to have the council tell the Warsaw Pact forces to get out of Czechoslovakia immediately.

Any resolution faces an almost certain Soviet veto and this was foreshadowed by Soviet delegate Jacob Malik's bitter opposition to any U.N. discussion of the issue at all.

Malik was impassive and, for most of the session Wednesday, wore dark glasses.

His performance lacked fire and Britain's Lord Caradon commented that the Russian diplomat had the council's "compassion" because it realized his "disgrace at having to defend such a disgraceful act. No wonder he carried so little conviction."

"Your compassion is in vain, Lord Caradon," Malik retorted. "I am proud that here in this council I defend a just cause."

Malik insisted that the Soviet Union and its allies had moved into Czechoslovakia at the invitation "of the government of

Discusses Poll Closing Time

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — The Craighead County Democratic Central Committee says each county should be able to decide whether to close the polls on election days at 6:30 or 7:30.

The members of the committee contend that the small number of persons voting after 6:30 p.m. do not justify keeping the polls open until 7:30 p.m. A law changing the closing time of the polls from 6:30 to 7:30 was passed by the 1967 legislature.

Anyone who draws trumps automatically will be burdened by misfortune on many occasions. Not that this column is opposed to drawing trumps. They should be drawn when, and if, you can afford to do so.

South ruffed the club opening and led a trump to dummy's ace. When both opponents followed, South relaxed happily. All he had to do was to pull the rest of the trumps and concede two spade tricks to the defense.

He pulled the rest of the trumps. West let the three of spades and deuce of clubs go. South started to claim but decided it would be easier just to play the hand out. He led a low spade toward dummy.

West hadn't relaxed at all. He had figured out the whole hand by a process of elimination and simply played a low spade.

Dummy's king won the trick and the jack was played next. West let that hold and South's period of relaxation was over.

He might just as well have stayed relaxed since he was not going to make his contract. Dummy's king of clubs would take care of one of his four spades but South was going to have to lose the other three. Eventually the last one would be high but South would have no way to get back to his hand to collect a trick with it.

South really had no excuse. He would have been sure of his contract if he had abandoned the trump suit after the second lead and gone after spades.

There would be all sorts of lines of play left for the defense and we will leave them to you to work out. All sorts of lines of play—but one thing in common. Not one would beat the contract.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Get Physical Checkup Before a Hunting Trip

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

The hunting season rolls around as regularly as Labor Day and Thanksgiving. The prospective hunter should check not only his equipment but also his own physical condition. Each year more hunting deaths are caused by heart attacks than by accidental gunshot wounds. The victims are almost always men who haven't had a physical checkup since they went before their draft board.

When you report to your doctor for a pre-hunting examination, you should be able to tell him how cold it will get at night and how hot it will be at midday where you are going, how far you are likely to hike through rough country and how much of this will be uphill, and whether you will be hunting mountain goats or other game at a high altitude.

Here are some other valuable tips: You should embark on a physical conditioning program well in advance of your trip. Wear clothing that is lightweight but warm. Brush up on first-aid principles. Eat moderately and, if you must drink, wait until you are back in camp for the evening. Don't hunt alone—this is especially important if your trophy is a deer or other game too heavy for one man to handle. Take as good care of your heart as you do of your gun and you should survive many a hunting season.

Q—I suffer from severe arthritis. I would gladly become a human guinea pig if I could get relief and at the same time benefit mankind. How do I go about this?

A—One of the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Md., is devoted to arthritis and metabolic diseases. All of the institutes are searching for "new" and "better" ways of treating diseases that come under their purview. A patient may be accepted at one of the institutes only after his private physician has submitted a complete history with the results of all the laboratory tests, and then only if the staff of the institute decides that a further study of the case would help the investigations they are making at the time.

For more detailed information about your disease, you might write to the Arthritis Foundation, 1212 Avenue of the Americas, New York, N.Y. 10036.

Paroles for Youths Called Disappointing

SEARCY, Ark. (AP)—Prosecutor Lloyd Henry of Searcy said Wednesday that paroles granted two White County youths one month after they received three-year sentences was "disappointing and discouraging to law enforcement officers at a time when crime is on the increase."

Henry said such an incident "thwarts the courts, the juries and the entire administration of justice."

The youths, Terry Evans, 20, and Jerry Hammond, 19, were convicted Jan. 25 of burglary and grand larceny. They were sent to prison July 9 and paroled Aug. 9 by the state Pardon and Paroles Board.

Henry also was critical of Bob Scott, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's aide for prison affairs.

Henry said that after the orders to commit Hammond and Evans were issued, Scott twice asked that he be given the orders and would pick up the two in Little Rock where they were working and deliver them to prison. Henry said Scott was informed that Sheriff John Davis had to deliver the two to prison.

"My motivation was that sure they were going to prison, but they didn't have to go down there manacled like a person who had committed a heinous crime," Scott said.

Scott said Henry had implied that he had "an ulterior political motive" because the attorney for Hammond and Evans, Jack Lewis of Clinton, was a defeated Republican candidate for prosecuting attorney and the brother-in-law of the chairman of the state Republican party, Otell Pollard of Searcy.

Scott denied this. He said he recommended parole for the two because of their youth, the "relative minor crime" they were found guilty of and they were first offenders.

"It does seem a bit strange that Scott in the governor's office developed such an intense interest in these cases as to insist that he be permitted to take the men to the penitentiary together with their commitments," Henry said. "This is especially true after his being told that this was the duty of the sheriff and doing otherwise would be a violation of court order."

Poll Result Due to Nixon Exposure

By HARRY KELLY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's advisers say his sharp drop in the latest presidential popularity poll is due to wide exposure Richard M. Nixon got during the Republican National Convention.

They say they believe Humphrey will recover in the standings as soon as the Democrats get their crack at the national television audience when they hold their own nominating convention next week in Chicago.

The advisers, however, aren't rejecting the latest Gallup poll out of hand. It is understood they are concerned enough to have talked to the polling firm and to concede that if tradition doesn't hold their man could be in trouble.

The poll, made public Wednesday only five days before the Democratic convention, shows Republican Nixon widening his lead from 40-to-38 per cent over Humphrey in mid-July to about 45-to-29 in the period immediately after the GOP convention.

Humphrey people insist the poll result will have no effect on the convention outcome. They contend that the other candidates—Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota and Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia—have not shown any greater popularity among the delegates.

After their talks with the Gallup people, Humphrey advisers said Barry Goldwater showed substantial improvement in the polls immediately after the 1964 GOP convention that nominated him.

But it was a temporary rise. Thus, the argument goes that Goldwater's and Nixon's showings were improved by saturation news coverage of their conventions.

Humphrey advisers expect the vice president will show a similar gain in the polls after the Democratic convention, if he is nominated. And Humphrey predicts he will be nominated on the first ballot.

The poll came out the same day that Sen. Edward M. Kennedy repeated that he is not running for office in 1968.

Some Democratic leaders think only the Kennedy name on the ticket would assure Humphrey of victory against Nixon this fall. But Humphrey is represented as feeling that Kennedy means exactly what he says and is out of the running as a potential presidential or vice presidential candidate at the convention.

Humphrey, who is working on his acceptance speech, is presumably also looking over again the names of those who might add strength to a Humphrey ticket.

Much of the recent speculation centers on Sargent Shriver, a Kennedy brother-in-law who is ambassador to Paris, New Jersey Gov. Richard Hughes, Oklahoma Sen. Fred Harris, former North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford and San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto.

But Humphrey is said to be insisting that the list is still open and that two of his opponents—McCarthy and McGovern—are possibilities as well as others.

Wants a Law to Bar Smoking

BUTLER, N.J. (AP)—Mayor Clayton D. Brown asked the Borough Council Tuesday to pass a law making it illegal for a resident under 18 to smoke.

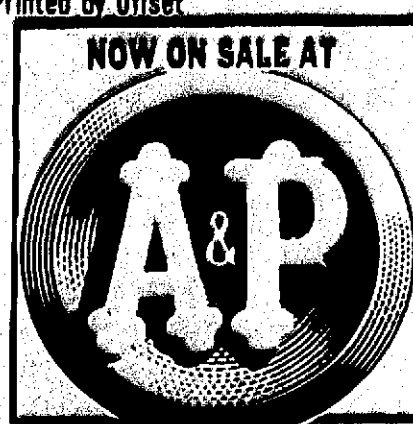

"It is incumbent upon us as parents and adult members of society to protect our youth from developing dangerous health habits as a result of influence or irrational judgment," he said.

The mayor's proposal, which the council will vote on in September, met resistance from Councilman Robert Predmore.

Predmore, said, "I've heard of people choking to death on beefsteak. That also may be hazardous to health."

Blueberry-maple syrup cake is rich and tasty.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

It's about time for the national blueberry season to begin. Those plump, deep blue, succulent gifts to man are about to reach all markets. So let's prepare for them.

"As is" with milk or cream, in muffins and pancakes and also in cakes of wonderful appeal.

For sheer epicurean delight, blueberries are a fine way to start the day with breakfasts in which they give ordinary griddle cakes and waffles a special quality. Then, too, for other meals hot blueberry muffins and marmalade appeal to every member of the family. Other housewives gather in compliments by topping off a dinner with a delicious pie or steamed pudding.

Blueberry cakes come in many varieties, but we would like to offer the following recipe, which is sure to intrigue every member of the family:

BLUEBERRY-MAPLE SYRUP CAKE

- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 3 eggs, well-beaten
- 1/4 cup maple syrup
- 2 1/4 cups all-purpose flour
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 cup milk
- 2 cups fresh (or dry-pack frozen) blueberries, rinsed and drained

Cream shortening until light and fluffy. Beat in sugar and eggs, one at a time. Stir in maple syrup. Sift flour and baking powder. Alternately beat in dry ingredients and milk, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Fold in blueberries. Pour batter into a greased and floured 1 1/2 quart mold or loaf pan 9x5x3 inches. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) for 45 to 50 minutes or until top is richly browned. Unmold and cool on a rack. Dust top with confectioners' sugar.

SHOWBEAT

By DICK KLEINER
NEA Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—A pleasant lunch at the Disney ranch, sitting in a shady glen and listening to Glenn Ford and Nancy Olson and Warren Oates chatting. They talked about politics, about houses, about movie-making—and about Glenn Ford's two previous lives.

The three, together with Dean Jagger and Keenan Wynn, are filming a modern western for Disney. Nobody is quite sure yet what it will be called—perhaps "A Man Named Smith" or possibly "Breaking Smith's Quarter Horse," but most likely something else.

It's a departure for the Disney people in that this is a story with some depth and meaning to it. The plot revolves around prejudice—anti-Indian prejudice—and heretofore the most meaningful Disney film has been "The Happiest Millionaire," which was definitely proalligator.

But back to Glenn Ford and his fascinating story of reincarnation. He told how, under scientific hypnosis, he was regressed back in time, back beyond his own birth to two previous lives.

One, the earlier, was a man who was a member of the court of Louis XIV of Versailles. Under hypnosis, Ford spoke fluent French which he cannot normally speak. Even more astounding was the fact that he was speaking the language of the period.

He—or the Frenchman he once was—accurately described Versailles at the time, its physical layout and even the smell of sewage which Ford, in subsequent research, has verified. His prior self described how he was killed in a duel, run through by a saber in the chest.

"He was run through here," Ford said, pointing to the spot. "And for a long time I've had pains in that spot. Pains which could never be explained."

His other previous life, again brought out under hypnosis, was a piano teacher in England, who died in 1892. While under, Ford played piano—Beethoven—and he does not know how to play the piano at all.

All this is on tape. Ford says he is firmly convinced that he was, indeed, these two men.

"I'm convinced that there is life after death," he says. "It has made me rather looking forward to death—or, at least, unafraid of it."

Ford says there is a quotation—"Death is only the glorious awakening to find that life itself is but a dream"—which he says has carried him through many rough spots.

Nancy Olson and Oates listened to Ford's story with understandable fascination. For Nancy, this is her first film in six years—she was occupied otherwise, with marriage, having a child, building and furnishing a house.

All three of them talked politics. Ford teased Nancy, saying he was a big Wallace booster.

"I don't know if I can finish the picture with you," Nancy said, semiserious until she realized he was kidding.

Ford said he didn't like Gov. Ronald Reagan, because when Reagan was president of the Screen Actors Guild and Ford was on the board of governors, they differed over an actors' strike. Reagan was for the strike, Ford opposed to it.

"He hasn't spoken to me since," Ford said. "I don't trust his emotions—no one should carry a grudge that long."

They talked about houses. Oates had just bought a lot and was looking for a builder.

But all this talk seemed minor after Ford told his reincarnation story. Somebody should make a movie about that.

retired submarine commander, is still under house arrest in Athens, but he approves his wife's decision to go into exile.

Copies of the Hellenic Review have been mailed to Greece under plain cover, and already subscriptions have started to pour in. "Probably some of the subscribers are police spies—it's hard to tell," Mrs. Vlachos shrugs. "However, there are five million Greeks living abroad, and it is this audience that I am chiefly aiming at."

The determined little woman publisher apologizes because some of the articles are unsigned. "To reveal the identity of the writers would be tantamount to sending them to jail," she says. "I am more scared of the dentist than I am of Colonel Papadopoulos, the prime minister," she maintains.

Woman Editor Jabs at Junta

By TOM A. CULLEN
European Staff Correspondent

LONDON—(NEA)—Tiny, lively Mrs. Helen Vlachos, 56, self-exiled Greek newspaper tycoon, has resumed her one-woman war against the colonels who now run Greece by starting her own magazine here.

Mrs. Vlachos, whose politics are conservative and anti-Communist, has been firing salvos against the colonels ever since they seized power in April of 1967. In a cell-like office in central London I found her preparing her latest batch of ammunition—a 24-page monthly called the Hellenic Review, with which Mrs. Vlachos is staging her newspaper comeback.

The Hellenic Review contains well-documented reports on Greece's worsening economic position, on the torture of political prisoners, as well as, the text of King Constantine's appeal to the Greek people on the eve of his ill-fated counter-coup. The whole is laced with gossip smuggled out of Athens.

The tiny London office where Mrs. Vlachos works is a far cry from the modern plant in Athens which printed the two mass-circulation dailies she owned. The attractive woman publisher closed down both papers as a protest against the colonels' seizure of power.

She was placed under house arrest for "insulting behavior," escaped to London last December by dyeing her hair and using a false passport.

In the months since her arrival in Britain, Mrs. Vlachos has not been idle. She has appeared on television here, and has spoken at Oxford, Cambridge, Manchester, Edinburgh and Reading universities.

In fact, she has become a sort of modern Delphic oracle whom newspaper and TV people consult whenever something happens in Greece. As an example, my interview with her was interrupted by a telephone call from the secretary of Stavos Niarchos, the millionaire Greek shipowner, wanting to know the lowdown on the recent Greek cabinet reshuffle in which six ministers were dismissed.

"You'd think Mr. Niarchos would be better informed than I am," Mrs. Vlachos protested mildly. "But that's the way it goes. My telephone keeps ringing all day."

Explaining how she came to start the Hellenic Review, Mrs. Vlachos said, "My instinct is always to fill a gap. In this case there is a gap in Greek history. Many important documents, texts, messages go unpublished in Greece because of the press censorship, so I have decided to publish them myself."

Mrs. Vlachos even managed to achieve a "scoop" in the first issue of her Hellenic Review by publishing the names of 558 army officers who have been dismissed since the Greek military junta seized power. This was intended to show that the junta's military backing is not all that solid.

"Mrs. Vlachos, the editor," is not all that keen on playing an active role in politics, but has been pushed to the forefront by events. "I am primarily a journalist," she explains. "In Athens, members of Parliament make a habit of dropping into newspaper offices around seven o'clock in the evening in order to breathe down the editor's neck."

"But I would never allow this to happen on any newspaper I owned. My papers were independent in the literal sense of the word, which is what press freedom is all about."

Although Mrs. Vlachos closed down her two dailies rather than submit to censorship, she continued to be a thorn in the side of the colonels. So much so that last September she was placed under house arrest with her telephone disconnected and police guards stationed outside the apartment building where she lived.

She made her escape by dyeing her gray hair dark brown and otherwise disguising her appearance. Once in London her first visit was to the hairdresser to have the dye removed.

Mrs. Vlachos' husband, a

If he talks about his dieting victories to his friends, they deign he has turned into a braggart and dull bore. If he keeps his trap shut about his diet—and his, of course, the overwhelming thing on his mind—they decide he's turned into a secretive and sullen boor.

It might be thought that dieting at least could find solace and comfort in conversing with each other about their problems. If the other guy has lost 15 ounces more than you have, you don't want to listen to him; if you've lost 11 ounces more than he has, he doesn't want to listen to you.

In any case, each of you feels sure the other is lying.

A social was held at the First Assembly of God Fellowship Hall last evening in honor of Reverend and Mrs. B. J. Willhite and family. The Willhites will move to Fayetteville, to assume responsibilities there as pastor of Trinity Temple, 1100 Rolling Hills Drive.

While ministering in Hope the past five and one-half years, Mr. Willhite led the church in an extensive building program which included a new sanctuary and educational building. Along with his regular pastoral duties, he served as program chairman of the Rotary Club for three years; as secretary, and then president of Southwest Arkansas Development Council, a five county C. A. P. agency, and for two years as president of the Paisley P. T. A.

For the past two and one-half years he has carried on a morning devotional broadcast, live from the pastor's study of the church, heard five days a week over KXAR. One year ago, under Mrs. Willhite's direction, the church opened a pre-school Day Care Center which has been enthusiastically received by many working mothers, and others of the community. Mrs. Willhite has also been active in the community, having served, first as secretary and then for two years as president of the Paisley P. T. A.

The Willhites have three daughters, Vicki, recently married to Jerry Haynes of Prescott, presently in Nurses Training at Texarkana College, Bobbi 12, and Terri 10. They will be residing at 1550 Ridgway in Fayetteville. The Rev. Mr. Willhite will preach his farewell sermon this Sunday evening at 7:00. An invitation has been extended by the church to all of the Willhite's many friends.

Ed Kennedy Says He's Not a Candidate

By CORNELIUS F. HURLEY
Associated Press Writer
WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) —

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts returned to his congratulations, and meet an old pal on the trip home. "Man, have you been sick?" he asks. "You look like a shadow of your old self. Take a tip from me and put on some weight."

It would be nice to punch him in the nose—if you didn't feel so feeble.

That's the biggest blow to a dieting fatty—even if he loses he rarely wins.

ical activity Wednesday with a call for an end to the war in Vietnam and a statement that he is not a candidate for any office this year.

Kennedy was stern and serious as he made his first public speech since the assassination of his brother Sen. Robert F. Kennedy June 5.

His audience, 1,200 members and guests, of the Worcester Chamber of Commerce, gave him ovations at the opening and end of his speech. There were seven interruptions for rounds of applause.

At one point the speech reminded some of the audience of the inaugural of his late brother, President John F. Kennedy in 1961, when he said: "The torch has been passed to a new generation..."

Sen. Kennedy told his audience he had been silent since the assassination of another brother, and said during the 10 weeks since then he had been advised by many to retire from public life, "for safety's sake."

"But there is no safety in hiding," he said. "Not for me, nor for any of us here today, and not for our children who will inherit the world we make for them."

"So today I resume my public responsibilities to the people of Massachusetts."

"Like my three brothers before me, I pick up a fallen standard," he said. "Sustained by the memory of our priceless years together, I shall try to carry forward that special commitment to justice, to excellence, to courage, that distinguished their lives."

In addition to his assassinated brothers, Sen. Kennedy's oldest brother, Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., died while in the service of his country, killed in the explosion of a bomb-laden Navy bomber he volunteered to pilot on a World War II mission in Europe.

Kennedy proposed a four-point program for an end to the Vietnam war:

1. To end unconditionally all bombing of North Vietnam;
2. To then negotiate with Hanoi the mutual withdrawal from South Vietnam of all foreign forces, both allied and North Vietnamese;
3. To accompany this withdrawal with whatever help we can give to the South Vietnamese in building of a viable political, economic and legal structure that will not collapse upon our departure, and
4. To demonstrate to both Hanoi and Saigon the sincerity of our intentions by significantly decreasing this year the level of our military activity and military personnel in the South.

Wife Divorcing Sammy Davis

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Blonde Swedish actress May Britt, after nearly eight years of marriage, is suing Sammy Davis Jr., for divorce.

A suit filed Tuesday in Santa Monica Superior Court said Davis "inflicted great anguish and mental suffering" upon her, causing illness and unhappiness. The action came four days after Frank Sinatra, a close friend of Davis, was divorced by Mia Farrow at Juarez, Mexico. The Sinatras separated last October—two days before Davis, a Negro, and Miss Britt announced a parting of ways.

Miss Britt, who has lived in the couple's $320,000 Bel Air home since the separation, asked for division of the community property in "a just manner" and custody of their three children.

Their children are Tracey, a 7-year-old daughter, and two adopted sons, Mark, 8, and Jeff, 3.

Cashmere goats are principally found in Tibet and India.

Workable Tax Reform Must Exclude Spenders

In its editorial of Aug. 15, "Tax Reform," the Searcy Citizen said:

"The primary reason why it is so hard to get real tax reform is that everyone individually feels that there is something in the present system that aids him and that he would lose in a general reform... without realizing that he may be paying far too much in taxes under some of the penalties of the present system."

That is true, of course, it's a chapter out of the story they tell about most big cities. The municipal government may be crooked, and the city overrun with chiselers and gangsters, but still the people resist change — because the average citizen knows existing officeholders and is confident they will allow him personally to "fix" a parking ticket. The result is, as the adage says, the people get just the kind of government they deserve.

So it is with taxes. Politicians carefully cultivate the fiction that they give "tax breaks" to the little people and make the big boys carry the heavy end of the stick — but instinct tells you this is phony because it's unreasonable. It's the big boys who make important contributions to campaigns, it's the big boys to whom the politicians are obligated — and the one thing a politician never forgets is that if he should wench on a campaign contributor his financial support is cut off for the future. Words spoken to the electorate on the stump are cheap enough, but when it comes to legislating taxes it's the campaign contributors who write the bill — and here the little fellow's count is zero.

In attempting tax reform you can't exclude all the politicians, of course, but you would be wise to require the exclusion of tax-eating bureaucrats — the non-elective figures in government whose constant cries for ever more revenue are the bad seed from which sprout most of today's tax injustices.

My observation is based on hard experience. Nearly two decades ago I worked with the late Gov. Francis Cherry as an unpaid member of his state-wide Committee of Twenty-Five which explored tax reform and proposed a 100 Per Cent Assessment Amendment. The amendment aroused the hostility of county tax assessors and political schoolmen, Cherry had to abandon it, and the people rejected it at the polls.

I say you have to exclude the public spenders from any movement on tax reform, for this reason:

I and others outlined to the political school leaders how the tax amendment would work. Assessments would be drastically raised, but the millage would go down in the same proportion — and the actual tax bill dollars would remain unchanged. But all the property in the state would be fairly valued. Then, in order to get more revenue, a millage increase based on the new high assessment would have to be submitted to local voters everywhere.

The political school leaders — the very people we were trying to help in the long run — responded with a unanimous "No."

They who were supposed to be an educated section of our people were so ignorant of government that they apparently believed you could raise school money by edict, without the consent of the voters — therefore they opposed tax reform regardless what it might do for the public schools in the long run.

Yet the very assessment amendment that was blocked in Arkansas has since been enacted in Florida. Florida dropped personal property assessments but put all real property on the books at its market value — cutting the millage accordingly.

But in approaching this reform the public spenders must be excluded — they always say "No" when vision and justice require that they say "Yes."

Rockets Again Hit Center of Saigon

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Enemy rockets smashed into the center of Saigon for the first time in two months today and mortars hit more than a dozen other cities and allied installations in a fifth straight day of widespread enemy attacks.

Heavy ground fighting also was reported at half a dozen points.

Military communiques reported 45 Vietnamese civilians were killed and 117 wounded in the rain of more than 500 rockets and mortars that hit Saigon and cities to the northwest and south. A Japanese news correspondent, Tatsuo Sakai, 33, also was killed in the Saigon attack, becoming the 19th correspondent to die in the war. Only five Americans were reported wounded in the widespread shelling.

Two rockets crashed into the National Assembly building in downtown Saigon. The explosion tore off part of the roof and smashed several windows in the Caravelle Hotel, where many Americans were sleeping. There were no reports of any Western civilians being hurt.

An American soldier was fatally shot in the back while cycling in downtown Saigon. The shooting touched off a running motorcycle gun battle that left a South Vietnamese soldier and

3-Letter Word Causing Most Trouble in the U.S. Today Is FAT

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Guess what three-letter word is causing the most trouble in our fair land?

Hah, I thought you'd say sex. Well, you're wrong, friend. Sex is for the birds and the bees. Fat is for people.

A government report the other day made the complacent claim that very few Americans suffer from dire hunger. Pure gobbledegoose. What about the 30-to-40 million blubber-laden U.S. citizens who are dieting?

That's about a fifth of the nation. They feel constantly on the verge of starving. Doesn't their hunger count? It is very real to them.

Personally, I've been on a diet for 49 days and managed to shrink from a wholesome 220 pounds down to 196. My final goal is 180, and it looks farther away than Valhalla or Shangri-La.

The only word for the ordeal is agony. I'd probably have expired weeks ago except for the dog biscuits I was able to sneak and gnaw down when my wife wasn't looking. It has gotten so bad that when I go into the

McCarthy Strategy Is the Same Plan That Failed Rockefeller

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — The city is different, the party is different, but the strategy is much the same as Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy strives to upset Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and capture the Democratic presidential nomination.

It is almost as though the McCarthy forces were working from campaign manuals drawn up for the Republican presidential bid of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

There are differences, but there are more parallels, in the Chicago campaign for McCarthy and in the Miami Beach convention strategy by Rockefeller three weeks ago.

The Rockefeller effort, of course, failed. Richard M. Nixon, who went to the GOP convention the leader, emerged as the Republican presidential nominee.

The McCarthy camp openly acknowledges the similarity between its campaign and that waged by Rockefeller.

The heart of the strategy amounts to a challenge of the convention system itself, an argument that the party professionals who wield power in a convention hall are not really responsive to what the people want.

The remedy chosen by both candidates: a public campaign designed to convince the delegates that if they really want

Ike Suffers Irregulars Heart Beats

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower continued to show increased evidences of heart "irregularity" today, but Army doctors said his over-all condition is unchanged and still critical.

The new heart spasms were reported in a bulletin issued late Wednesday night by doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital where he is fighting to recover from his seventh heart attack.

Although doctors said the 77-year-old general was resting comfortably and that his life signs were stable, the report indicated a setback after nearly 24 hours in which the dangerous spasms had steadily declined.

The bulletin for the first time used the word "irregularity" instead of "irregularity," but the doctors did not spell out why.

The latest report said: "Gen. Eisenhower has again shown some increase of heart irregularity since this afternoon's bulletin. He is presently resting comfortably and his vital life signs are stable."

Earlier in the day doctors reported that a new drug had appeared to be effective in controlling the spasms.

The drug is a synthetic substance called lidocaine, chemically related to the pain killer novocaine, but more powerful. Although it has not been approved by the Food and Drug Administration for general cardiac use, it is under extensive clinical investigation.

A researcher for the National Heart Institute said the general tone of scientific reports so far on its use to control heart rhythms is that "it has been very effective when used properly and most effective when used early in the course of the cardiac problem."

Van Buren to Get New Industry

VAN BUREN, Ark. (AL) — Van Buren Mayor Allen Toothaker has announced that a new industry will locate here if a $3.5 million bond issue is approved by voters.

Toothaker said the firm is the Cement Asbestos Products Co. of Birmingham, Ala., which would employ up to 100 persons with an annual payroll of about $500,000.

The mayor said that a 40-acre plant site, a building and equipment would be financed in part by the proposed bond issue.

The company manufactures both plastic and cement-asbestos pipe for municipal and rural water distribution systems.

Violent Demonstrations by Czechs, Soviet Invaders Asked to End Occupation

UN Council Action Faces a Sure Veto

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today President Johnson still would go anywhere—even to Moscow during the Czech crisis—"to further the cause of peace, if his presence were required."

Press secretary George Christian was questioned about a columnist's report that Johnson apparently had planned to visit the Soviet Union next week, but that the project seemingly fell through during the weekend prior to the Czech invasion.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Czechoslovakia, overrun by the Soviet Union and four hardline followers, fought back on the diplomatic front today with support from the United States and other Western powers.

The Security Council, heeding American pleas of urgency, scheduled a second round of debate after arguing the Soviet military take-over in Czechoslovakia for nearly five hours Wednesday night with no break for dinner.

U.S. Chief Delegate George W. Ball said he strongly appealed for "immediate action of the council... we have the responsibility to act and act quickly."

So far, however, the six nations—the United States, Britain, France, Canada, Denmark and Paraguay—which persuaded the council to place the case on its agenda over strenuous Soviet objections, have not come up with a formal resolution.

Discussions were understood to be going on to draw one up which would get the broadest possible support while still expressing U.S. position.

CARLISLE, Ark. (AP) — Five persons died early today in the flaming wreckage of a car-truck after a head-on collision on Interstate 40, about five miles east of here.

Officers said it took them more than two hours, with the use of acetylene torches, to remove the bodies, as yet unidentified, from the charred wreckage.

The collision occurred when a westbound car with two persons in it collided with an eastbound truck in the east lane of the interstate, officers said. Witnesses said the car was traveling at a high rate of speed with its lights off.

The truck, loaded with canteen supplies, had three persons in it and was registered in Texas. The car had an Arkansas license plate.

Witnesses told officers that the two vehicles exploded on impact and burned.

Lockesburg GI Killed in Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Sgt. Robert B. Purcell of Lockesburg, Ark., has been killed in action in Vietnam, the Pentagon said Wednesday.

Purcell was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Purcell of Lockesburg.

The Pentagon also said Army Sgt. L.C. Martin H. Gargan, husband of Mrs. Violet M. Bergan of Fort Smith, died as a result of nonhostile action.

U. S. Caught Flatfooted by Invasion

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. government was caught flatfooted by the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia even though American intelligence experts considered such action possible.

The signs of the drastic move by the Soviet Union were there. They apparently weren't read closely enough to make invasion seem likely.

Soviet and other Warsaw Pact armies had been on the move within striking distance of the Czech border, but U.S. authorities regarded this as part of the war of nerves waged since the Prague government started political reforms.

Another sign which, in hindsight, was ominous was the renewal of Soviet and Polish press attacks on the Prague regime.

And senior U.S. officers said the invasion was understandable in light of Moscow's fear that a closer relationship between Czechoslovakia and the West, particularly West Germany, would weaken the protective shield the Soviet Union has built through its satellite allies.

Yet, in spite of these signs, there is no evidence U.S. experts received advance word of the movement by Soviet and satellite troops across the Czech frontier.

In fact, President Johnson learned of the action, not through American intelligence sources, but by Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin, about three hours after the invasion started.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk's first knowledge came

Casualties in Hundreds, Is Report

By PETER REHAK
Associated Press Writer
PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovaks massed today on Václavské náměstí, Prague's main square, in a violent demonstration against the Soviet-led occupation and the arrest of their reform-minded Communist chief, Alexander Dubcek.

Ignoring requests by the clandestine Prague radio to maintain calm to avoid giving the foreign soldiers an excuse for further violence, a crowd of about 20,000 shook their fist at the Russians and shouted: "Russian murderers go home!" They called for Dubcek's release.

Shots were heard from the square. It could not be determined immediately whether the soldiers were aiming at demonstrators or looting warning shots into the air.

Soviet tank troops, who had been covering all approaches to the square since their arrival Wednesday, immediately closed all bridges across the Vltava River, which divides the city.

The move came as Czechoslovak Communists, reacting to the occupation by 200,000 Russian and Kremlin-line satellite troops, convened in an extraordinary party congress that its liberal leadership had originally scheduled to open Sept. 9.

This was a last-ditch attempt to force the troops to leave through political pressure.

The clandestine proliberal radio announced 927 delegates met at 11:20 a.m. Though the broadcast did not specify the site, the delegates had been urged to go to the liberal-controlled CKD factory on the outskirts of Prague.

Under arrangements that had been made by Dubcek, 1,500 members would have been on hand for the September meeting. In that session it had been expected he would oust conservative opponents from the ruling party Presidium and the Central Committee.

The seven Central Committee members who have declared loyalty to the Soviet-led occupation troops, tried to shift today's meeting to the party-owned Praha Hotel.

Soviet tanks and armored cars guarded the approaches to the hotel. Several black limousines were parked outside.

The proliberal station broadcast warnings to congress delegates not to go to the hotel, which it said was a trap.

The calling of the congress was another attempt to discredit the pro-Soviet members of the Presidium, who include Slovak party chief Vasil Bilak and Dr. Jan Koller, a former head of economic planning.

The proliberal radio this morning mentioned Rude Pravo editor Oldrich Svestka as one of the pro-Soviet members, but later

Johnny Cash to Accompany Rockefellers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller announced today that Johnny Cash, country and western music star, will entertain at his campaign opener Saturday at Winthrop.

Cash will appear with his wife, June Carter, and Carl Perkins, another recording artist.

Rockefeller will arrive at the festivities, which start at 5 p.m. on the "WR Victory Special," an 18-car campaign train which will leave Corning early Saturday morning.

Rockefeller is being opposed for reelection by state Rep. Marion H. Crank of Foreman.
